PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Hi all,

Welcome to the VFWDC Free Wheeling magazine.

This will be short this month.

Our annual Xmas in July is coming up. For the last few years we have been hosted by the guys out at St. Anne's winery and we have a great time. They are kind enough to allow us to camp out in one of their paddocks and have a big fire. We also have the opportunity to visit the cellar door over and over to sample their great range of wines and ports. The ports are my favourite. We entertain the kids with games and movies, once again our hosts look after us by letting the kids hang out in the chapel where we setup the projector to play the latest and greatest movies.

I encourage all members to come along and enjoy each other's company.

The snow trips are in the calendar and are already full up. If you have missed out and would still like to head to the snow please come along to the June meeting to express your interest and we will look at possibly running an extra trip.

We need some day trips. Give some thought to where you might like to go for a day trip and have a chat to our friendly Trip Co-ordinator, Stuart, to get it into the calendar.

The AGM is not far away, it's at the August meeting, and we require nominees for all committee positions. During the AGM all committee positions will be up for grabs and I would encourage all members to get involved and nominate for something they would like to help out with. It is a very rewarding thing to do and doesn't take up to much of your time. You will see committee position descriptions in the club magazine from now until the AGM. Please feel free to talk to any current committee members about any position, that is committee positions of course.

That's it from me.

I hope to see all our members at the next meeting and out on the tracks.

Ben Whitworth
President

Punters:

Bruce (TL)	GU Perfect Patrol
Des	GU Thirsty Patrol
John	GU Grenade Patrol
Jeff and Mary	I can't remember (BT50)
Dave and son Corey (visitors)	in some Toyota
Steve (TEC)	driving some big stripey boxy shaped thing

Well another successful trip with some great peoples run by a legendary Trip Leader.

The plan was to meet up at the mighty BP Mansfield for final fuel up and chow down, and my servants met up with me there. Everyone passed with flying colours.

After introduction, quick chat, final instructions and something to eat we cruised out of the servo. It was a beautiful clear evening, cold, but clear. We headed towards Tunnel Bend Reserve where we planned to air down. The trip there was extremely treacherous with drop bears, and wild deer waiting around every corner to take out un-suspecting victims, also throat tearing killer foxes and zillions of rabbits.

Somehow we made it to Tunnel campground where we found a group there for a bucks night with shit music blearing out to wake the dead 12klms away. Quick air down and we doubled back 1klm to the entrance of Flowerbag Track.

Flowerbag is a nice drive, nothing challenging but just a good intro to the night and with the moonlight it was very romantic. I love my patrol. Much banter over the radios with everyone relaxing and feeling part of the journey. Even Dave's young bloke showed he was handy on the radio while dad was driving long! One of the topics was the powerlines, and how were they run down through the valley and I was right and everyone else was wrong.

<https://youtu.be/Z01yvOsfNeE>

Rocketing along at a reasonable pace, we left Flowerbag turned right onto Moonlight Spur. Interesting track that goes for several klms, nothing hard, but a few very grippy steep climbs.

Would be more fun in the wet J This track is pretty kewl. Being out front, I noticed there were bunnies everywhere - 100's of them!! Dumb as a box of rocks too! They had no idea where to turn. I dunno if I made rabbit stew or not.

The end of that turns into Ryans Spur and after a few klms we stopped to look at the hut, looks like it's had some attention recently too. Nothing inside the hut but plenty of charcoal graffiti.

Then coming to the end of Ryans Spur it turns into Cornhill Track along and up to the Firetower. The track up to the tower itself was very chewed up, You could see when it had been wet sometime in the last million years and dozens of cars had taken yillions of different lines, and the ground had then dried out leaving a rough and tumble ride up. Note: not one U-turn... brilliant leadership :D

At the Tower we had a look around, few photos were taken, much awe was had, some oo's and ahhs were mentioned and it was reasonably cold up there. So we waited for Johnmy boy to put his jumper and beanie on as he was a tad cold, waited for Steve to light up a cancer stick, and jumped back into cars, heaters on and drove off!

From the tower, we doubled back down the hill few 100mtrs to Charles Track, twisting and turning a lot the end of this would be a pearler in the wet the other way which came out just opposite Old Coach Road. Also a small campground at the bottom there but was pretty damp and soggy.

We headed into Woods have a look around but it was getting late our awesome leader decided it was time to head to Gaffneys Creek Cricket ground for the night. It was a fair bit further than I remembered being dark n all.

We turned into the ground and 1 other group was at the far end, so we took the road end with the shelter and dunnys. Extremely nice dunny for an dawn AGB!

Tents were setup, swags rolled out, fire created, beers opened, munchies shared around the fire, much banter was had, wee wee's had then at 12.30am Steve decided to cook his Chorizio - werid eh.

After that it most went ta bed with the last heading to bed about 3am.

Early morning start, and with brekkie and AGB out of the way at around 10.30, drivers meeting was had. After much discussion it was decided not to go back as far as the beginning of do Old Coach Road due to time.

So we blasted back to the intersection of Old Coach Road, German Spur, Frenchmans gap, Sec Powerline Track, and Mansfield Woods Point Road. The road is in fairly rough condition too.

Onto German we headed up the first section and the views magnificent with the weather I'd booked for Sunday. You could see several sections had been dozed in recent months. German goes along for several kms and there are some great steep descents in the last few klms. We usually drive the other direction, climbing which in the wet has proved quite challenging.

Crawling down and down and down and down again we came to the main road. Parked up and waited for everyone to catch up. More banter was had then we headed to the Kevington Pub to air up and end the trip. We split up here with a few going in for a beer, others heading home to unpack while it was still daylight.

Thanks to all for coming along, thanks for great attitudes, and hope you enjoyed yaselves. Also thanks to Ly and Callum for coming for reccy's in the weeks prior. See Ly it's easy!

Finally an apology... Yea it happens sometimes.

I didn't realise Andre had his name down for the trip on the trip form which was misplaced by me. My fault totally thus I missed emailing him the info for the trip.

Birdman.

THE FIRST OF MANY -TOOLANGI

19th May - 20th May
by Ly

Participants:

David & Samuel	Mighty Navara
Jeff & Mary	NAMATE BT50
Ly	Recovery-bait-80-Cruiser

The team met up at Lilydale Maccas and at 5:30pm, our convoy of three cars departed.

We entered the infamous Toolangi State Forest via Myers Creek Road and that's when lit up the night with our spotlights and lightbars.

Stopped at Tanglefoot Picnic Area to air down and drove another 5 mins to Woodmore Track.

David headed in first and found the Navara slipping up the first muddy hill. The first sign of the 'fun' we were going to have tonight... Everyone got past that hill, and I got a bit stuck in this muddy pit with a branch/log. After a bit of reversing I climbed out unscathed.

Same couldn't be said for Jeff's BT50 who valiantly tried but eventually summoned help over the radio.

David made his way down on foot to give Jeff a hand with his brand new winch. Jeff was super excited to use his winch for the first time. He winched off a tree and got unstuck - yay! Everyone hopped back into the cars and drove up about a further 50m.

Another muddy hill and David was spinning his wheels after a few go's. He made the call to U turn out. Remember that muddy pit with the branch earlier?

My front left tyre gave it a cuddle and I heard a pshhhhhhhht. Sure enough I punctured it but couldn't see with where with all the mud.

David instructed me to drive down this crap hill on three wheels until I found a safe spot. 20m there was a flat solid landing.

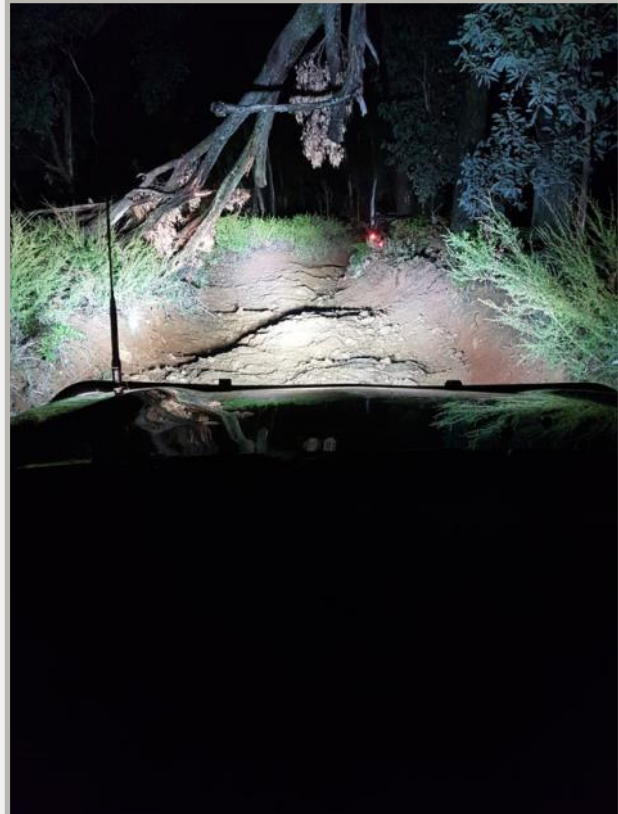

From here it was a F1 pit stop mode. David and I:

1. got the tyre off
2. hi-lift jacked up
3. took off the spare and pumped that up (was at 5 psi!)
4. put the spare on and tightened it up
5. put the punctured on the rear wheel carrier

It felt like we completed all that in 10 mins. My first puncture while 4x4ing at my first night run and my first time at Toolangi. Great.

We got back on Sylvia Creek Road to have a quick breather and agreed let's find a camp site as this night isn't going according to plan.

At some point there was a decision made to go down this really rough track that required technical concentration otherwise there'll be panel damage.

With my left foot hard on the brake and the right foot driving through, David called on the radio to watch how he tackled this upcoming drop off.

He got through it and next was me. I did a poor attempt to follow David's line because next moment I was about leaning 30 degrees to my right.

All wheels were thankfully touching a surface but I was in the brown-stains-in-undies moment where any wrong movement in either direction could land me upside down (In my head anyway). So I grabbed the radio and requested immediate assistance. While David was hoofing up the hill towards me, I gazed to the chicken track on the left thinking, why oh why wish I saw it earlier.

Sigh, Toolangi. While I was glued/pooped to my seat, David got Jeff to secure his vehicle to a tree with a strap before trying to recover me.

Second time Jeff's winch came in handy. Slowly I got winched backwards so my car was levelled out. Woohoooo. I drove up behind David's car and waited for Jeff.

Jeff got down safely with spotter David relaying where to point his wheels. Now it was truly time head to a camp site.

We camped at this all-dirt site off a track that easily accommodated us. Happy-late hour time - drinks, foods, fire and laughs until 2AM.

Next morning we woke up to a slight misty drizzle. In the daytime I assessed the damage. Tyre got sidewalled - hole was size of a 5c piece. Damage two was my right rear bumper was heavily dented. Final damage was my exhaust pipe was so bent it rubbed on the right rear tyre!

With the dark magic of a ratchet strap and David's bush mechanic skills, David strapped the pipe up to get me home.

Aired up at the motorbike unloading zone and home.

Lots of firsts this trip - winch uses, time at Toolangi, night run, tyre puncture, worthy car damage. Wasn't the way I planned to enjoy my 'firsts', but won't forget it.

COMMITTEE DUTIES

As it is coming close to the time for the Annual General Meeting (in August), the committee has decided to add the basic descriptions of the duties accepted from the Executive Committee positions.

President

- The Presidents role is a voted Committee position and it is the Presidents responsibility to be fully versed with the Club Rules
- Attendance of general meetings making sure meetings are held in accordance with the requirements as specified in the Constitution
- Draw up an agenda for General Meetings and ensure meeting is run in a structured manor.
- Lead the meeting through the agenda, keeping discussion relevant, decision making clear and encouraging member participation when required
- Appoint general committee roles and delegate duties to the committee members
- Make sure Committee Meetings are held in accordance with the requirements as specified in the Club Rules
- Draw up an agenda for Committee Meetings and ensure meeting is run in a structured manor
- Write monthly Presidents for the newsletter to report relevant information to members
- Attend Four Wheel Drive Victoria president meetings when required
- Oversee and assist in resolving any members disagreements
- Welcoming new members or visitors at general meetings

Immediate Past President

- This is an office bearers position and requires the incumbent to attend all General Meetings and occasional other meetings.
- The incumbent in this position, as it is not an elected position, does not hold any portfolios.
- The incumbent is to be a source of historical advice and information to the newly elected Executive Committee.
- The position has full voting rights similar to those of the elected Committee members.
